Fun in the Sunshine

The Transition Team is proud to have launched the new Summer School at Earl Mortimer College and Sixth Form Centre. Students moving up to Year 7 in September had the chance to spend a week in their new College at the start of the summer holidays, familiarising themselves with their new surroundings and new teachers.

Aim of Summer School

Two exciting themes collided: Healthy Lifestyles and Sport. There are not many secondary schools that offer the kind of quality and space that EMC can. With a plush new building to explore and 27 acres of land to use, the Summer School students really had a fantastic time in their new College.

Broad range of activities

From learning innovative dance steps to playing sport outdoors in the sunshine, whether using state-of-the-art ICT suites or making a programme in the cool radio studio, Summer School students gave their brains and muscles a thorough workout!

The Future: Enrol for Summer School 2012

Students who are in Year 5 and Year 6 (2011-12) are welcome to apply for a place at the July 2012 Summer School when it is launched in Spring.

Activities will link strongly with the buzz of the London Olympics which will also start that week. The excitement is already building, and what better way to join the fun than to come to the county's premier Specialist Sports College for the second annual Summer School!

The Last Word

With creative input from our own senior students and staff, plus consultation from a student of science from the University of Worcester, the EMC Summer School is presented to you with the highest recommendation for all students who are about to start here in the new Year 7.
