Rewards Policy: One-page summary

Recognition

At Earl Mortimer College and Sixth Form Centre we believe everybody deserves recognition for going that extra mile, for making exceptional effort, for doing the right thing. Enter the new Rewards Policy: regular, systematic, and manageable.

Exceptional

At Earl Mortimer College and Sixth Form Centre, the culture of rewarding progress and achievement prevails. Students earn recognition in a wide variety of ways, many of which extend way beyond the class room. Achievement credits are recorded digitally, steadily accumulating day by day.

Wide-ranging

Research shows that students want a variety of incentives, from desirable “must have” products such as mp3 players and gadgets, to life’s little essentials from EMC branded pens to book vouchers.

Accessible

EMC comes with state of the art ICT as standard. Students and parents can access their Credits Balance online and choose whether to keep saving or cash them in for an item from the Prize Cabinet. Prizes are proudly funded from a variety of sources including the PTA and local businesses.

Rewarding

Teachers seek every opportunity to praise their students. Students rise to the academic and spiritual challenges they face during everyday College life. The new Rewards Policy allows this goodwill to be turned into items which students will use to add to their successes.

Desirable

The new system promises to deliver meaningful and motivational rewards, moving beyond the traditional one-size-fits-all antiquated book voucher to a new range of desirable products and items.

Save

To save and accumulate credits for an extended period of time lets students truly value the items they finally claim from the Prize Cabinet. At EMC, we value this essential attitude.

Selection of Prizes

The Prize Cabinet will have an ever-changing selection of prizes on show. Each prize will have a sticker stating how many credits are required. Sometimes there might only be one or two of each prize, so be sure to cash in your credits against the item you would like before anybody else does.

Some prizes may be exchanged for a small number of credits. Others you will have to save up for. It's up to you how often you cash-in your credits! Points will be carried over from year to year, allowing you to keep on saving for a long-term goal.

Keep checking the Prize Cabinet to see what must-have prizes are available this week.

- The flagship Annual Awards Evening and Annual Sports Awards Evening take place each summer, in which a selection of students will receive special awards before an audience of parents and carers. Two truly special occasions.

For students:

Checking your credit balance and cashing-in credits for prizes

- You can view your Credit Balance at any time from any web-enabled PC or laptop.
- You will receive a printed Credit Balance at the end of each half term. It will show you how many credits you have collected, what prizes you are already eligible for, and how many credits you need to earn something more special.
- Simply surf into www.earlmortimer.com and follow the links to log in.
- To cash in your credits in return for a gift, simply approach your Learning Manager who will arrange for the unused credits to be retained.
- Specimen Credit Balance on next page.
